

Year 6: Monday 11th May 2020

Hi Year 6,

I hope you and your families are all staying safe and well.

I thought I'd send you another little message because this coming week would've been a big one for us....that week that we've had in our thoughts since September (even though we tried our best not to talk too much about it)...KS2 SATs week.

I'm sad we're not able to have our week of meeting for breakfast together on a morning as I had planned, and I'm disappointed that you're not getting your chance to show how hard you've worked in our school and how much you've learned. But we don't need, and have never needed, SATs to prove that. Throughout your time in our school, you have all shone for many reasons; whether it be in your work, your behaviour, your attitude, your care for others, your sporting achievements, your efforts in after school clubs, or the times you were recognised as a star pupil. I have only had the pleasure of teaching you for half a year this year but I have known you all since your first day in our school, and I am incredibly proud of you, as a group, and as individuals.

I'd like to thank you for all of your efforts this year. Returning to school after having Seb, I was so lucky to be asked to teach such a mature and hard working year group; and I know that you would've been more than ready to take on each of those tests with a confidence in your own abilities and a determination to try your best – which is all anyone will ever ask of you.

So feel proud of yourselves this week, because the other members of staff and I are proud to have had such a fantastic group of young people as our Year 6 of 2020.

Keep smiling, and I hope to see you all soon.

Lots of love,

Mrs Appleby ☺

Christian Aid Week

Christian Aid Week was set up 60 years ago to support the charity's work with refugees in Europe following the Second World War. Christian Aid now works with 700 local organisations across 50 developing countries. Working with poor communities, it trains people to deal with the effects of climate change and prepares them for the threat of natural disasters. They also help people become more educated, and spread peace around the globe.

Can you name the charities that these logos belong to?

Can you organise the charities into categories?

eg. health charities, animal charities

Challenge – Make a list of reasons why someone might support each of the categories of charity that you've chosen.
