Hello, my name is Felix, and before I became a Roman soldier, I used to live in Rome. I became a Christian after hearing the message about Jesus' resurrection from the dead. In 60AD, I signed up to be a soldier and was sent with my legion to Briton (where Wales, England and southern Scotland is today, and where the Celtic people then lived). We attacked and defeated the druids in Anglesey. By 80AD, we had conquered the whole of England and Wales.

Hi, my name Amir and I'm 15 years old. I was born in an Arab country called Yemen but we moved to Cardiff in 1871. My dad is a docker, which means he loads ships for a living. The opening of the Suez Canal in 1861 meant that boats could travel carrying goods from Arab countries through to the Mediterranean Sea and out into the Atlantic. It meant that Arab countries could trade with Europe including the UK. My dad heard of work in Cardiff and we moved. A few of us Muslims from Yemen and other Arab countries would meet to say our prayers on Fridays.

Dear God
We are thankful for all the nations, peoples and cultures of the world. We are thankful that we live in a nation where we have the opportunity to mix and experience other cultures daily. May we all work together, to celebrate our differences, but more importantly, focus on what unites us.
Amen.
