Emotional Well-Being

Take some time out of your day to do something you enjoy - this could be watching a TV programme, playing a game, reading a book, going for a walk, baking with your family, drawing a picture etc.

English

We watched Toy Story last week. What do you think your toys would get up to if they came alive while you were asleep? Write me some sentences or even a story about your toys! Think about what they would do, where they would go, what they would say and how they would feel. Remember your capital letters and full stops.

Maths – Consolidation – Tens and Ones

Watch the video (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dHu5TFxPtk>) and have a go at answering the questions on the worksheet.

PSHE

Today I want you to think about what makes you... you! Today we are going to fill in a 'map to your heart'. Inside your heart I'd like you to draw the things that make you you - you could draw your family, your friends, your teacher, your favourite food, your favourite place, your favourite toy, your favourite colour etc.

Prayer/Reflection

We live in the UK, which is a collection of four nations. The UK is also a multicultural country which means that we live amongst people from different cultures that have their origins from all around the world. This week we are going to celebrate the positive way different cultures in the UK live alongside one another peacefully. This week we are going to hear examples of how people with different religious beliefs came and settled in the UK.

Today we are going to hear from a girl called Cheng Lee.

Buddhism

My name is Cheng Lee, my father was originally from Hong Kong, but he worked all over the world as a captain of big ships. In 1869, we moved to the UK and settled in Liverpool. My Dad spent more time docked in the port here than in China, which meant we were able to spend more time with him. We have always followed the teachings of the Buddha. (In the 1861 census, 147 Chinese-born residents were living in England and Wales.)

How did Cheng Lee come to the UK?
