Activity 1: Emotional Well-Being/ PSHE

Yesterday I shared a video on Class Dojo called Ruby's Worry. If you haven't seen the video you can watch it - or if you have you could watch it again.

Think about any worries you might have. Draw/write it on a butterfly and let it fly away.

Activity 2: English

Feel free to finish your Noah's Ark story from yesterday. If you have finished maybe you could underline or highlight the time connectives you used e.g

First Next Then After that Later A few days later Finally

If you fancy a challenge you could answer the questions about Ruby's Worry on the attached sheet.

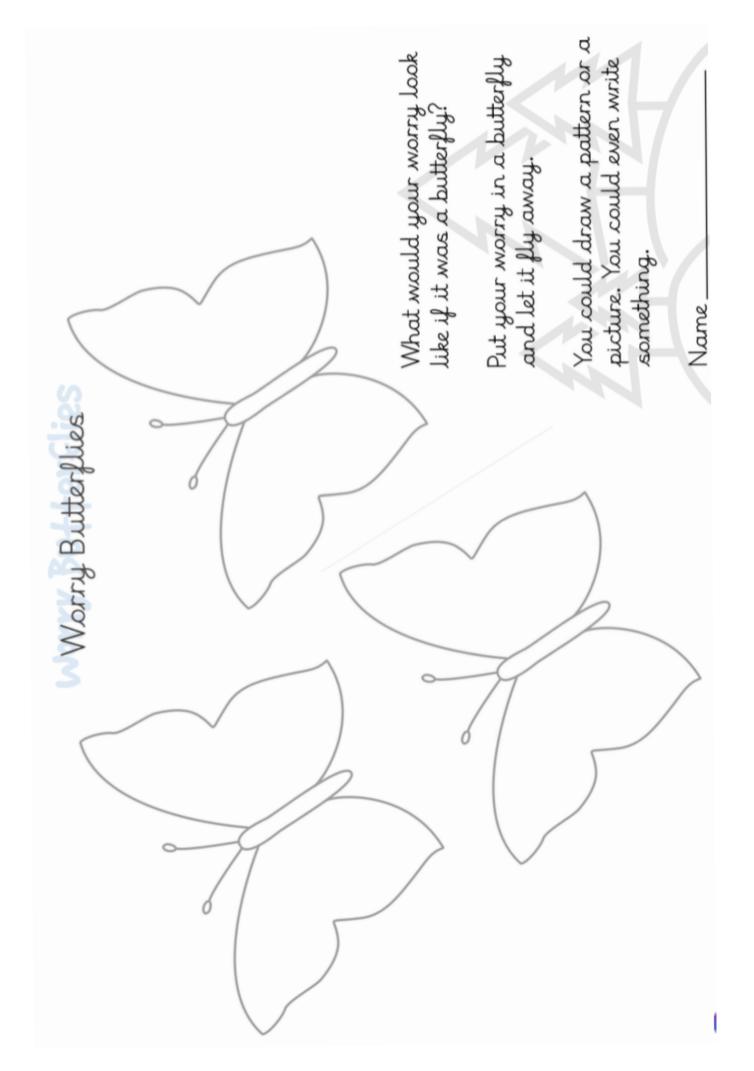

Activity 3: Maths

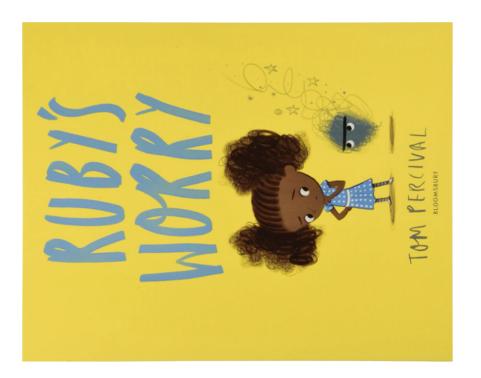

Today we would have done some work on part-whole models. If you log onto Class Dojo you should see a video for todays Maths task. I will attach the worksheet here as well as Class Dojo in case there are any technical difficulties.

Activity 4: Handwriting

This afternoon we would have had time to practice our handwriting. Now we've already looked at our long ladder letters and our curly caterpillar letters so today's handwriting practice is our one-armed robot letters. Remember to trace the letters and then have a go at writing some of your own. You can do this worksheet online on Class Dojo or I will attach it here as well in case there are any technical difficulties.

HAVE A LOVELY WEEKEND EVERYONE - I'M SO PROUD OF ALL OF YOU!
