Emotional Well-Being

Take some time out of your day to do something you enjoy - this could be watching a TV programme, playing a game, reading a book, going for a walk, baking with your family, drawing a picture etc.

Phonics

This week we will be continuing to look at the 'AIR' family (air, are, ear) Can you find the 'air', 'are', 'ear' words in the story? You might need an adult's help reading the whole story.

English

This week we are going to write a short story about Sunny going to visit the South Pole.

Today we are going to write the next part of the story. Using your story map from Monday, write the problem and fix problem parts of your story.

Remember to use full sentences, capital letters, full stops, finger spaces and lovely describing words.

English – Reading

Read or listen to the story 'Mr Wolf's Pancakes' - https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6\_VosU2oLgY
Pick a reading activity to do every day this week.

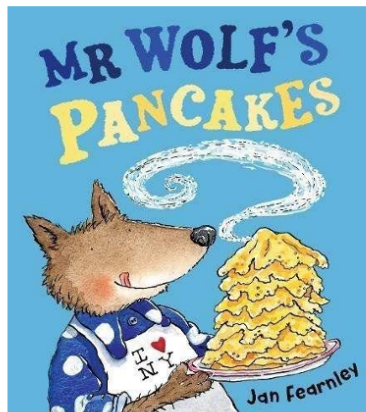

Make some instructions of how to make pancakes.

A recipe book is a non-fiction book.
Can you make a list of the other non-fiction books you can think of?

Read the story about one of Mr Wolf's neighbours – Chicken Licken, Wee Willie Winky, Gingerbread Man, Little Red Riding Hood and the 3 Little Pigs.

Write a shopping list for Mr Wolf.
What ingredients will he need to make pancakes? Don't forget about toppings!

Draw a map of Mr Wolf's journey to the shop – make sure to include his neighbour's houses.

In traditional fairy tales, the wolf is usually the villain – e.g. The Big Bad Wolf in Little Red Riding Hood, 3 Little Pigs. Is this true in this story? Explain your answer.

If you were Mr Wolf would you give the neighbours some pancakes? Explain your answer.

Do you think Mr Wolf did the right thing at the end of the story? Explain your answer.

Perhaps you could use your instructions and shopping list to help you make pancakes next Tuesday on pancake day!

PSHE

This half term we have been learning all about relationships. We have focused on friendships and what good and bad relationships mean. On Sunday it is St. Valentine's day. Today I would like you to fill out this Valentine's sheet describing what love is, who you love, what a friend is and then you can write an acrostic poem for the word love – we did this in the autumn – each line starts with the letters LOVE.

Collective Worship – Be My Valentine

In the English language we have different words that mean the same thing, for example, an eraser and a rubber both refer to something that rubs out mistakes made when using a pencil. We also have words that sometimes mean more than one thing. For example, the word seat can mean a stool, chair, bench or even floor. Love is another word that we use but will have different meanings. Think about the word love in the following sentences:

- I love my hamster
- I love my mum
- I love my Xbox
- I'd love a drink
- I love my wife
- I love my children
- I love my brother
- I love my boyfriend
- I'd love to go on holiday

We use the word 'love' to mean 'enjoy', 'like' and 'appreciate'. Do you love a hamster with the same love that you love your mum or your nana? We often use the word love to refer to 'care'. In caring for his community, St. Valentine was able to demonstrate that he also loved the people around him.

Time to reflect

- Can you love a thing?
- Should we try to love our communities?
- How do we show love to our community?

Reflection (Prayer)

Dear God,

We are thankful for stories that help us to reflect on positive and important human qualities. At this time of year when we think about love, may we show our love, care and concern for our friends, families and communities.

Amen

Phoneme Spotter Story

Colour the phoneme green.

Harry had a sister called Clare. One hot day Clare tried to find something to wear. She sat on a chair to put on a pair of trainers. Then she brushed her hair. Harry and Clare were bored. Clare sent Harry to the woods on a dare while she went to the funfair.

When he got there, what he saw gave him a scare. He jumped right into the air. He saw a bear. It had brown hair. It gave him a mean stare. Harry ran away with no time to spare. He had to get away from there.

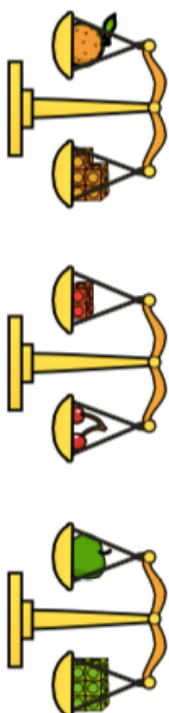

“Where did you go?” said Harry to Clare. He took off his trainers and rubbed his bare feet. “I went to the fair!” said Clare as she munched on a pear. Harry had a story to share. He told Clare all about his scare with the bear.
