A lovely message from Joseph's mam

Joseph (Year 2) is currently completing the 100 squats a day in May challenge for the charity Shelter, who provide advice and assistance to people on housing and homelessness issues. He has raised £70 so far between cash and online donations but if anyone would care to sponsor him, I know he would be extremely grateful. There is a donations link on my Facebook page which has been set to public so that anyone who is not my friend can still access and donate.

Thanks for your support.

Jemma Cavendish

Please sponsor me!

Joseph we think this is fantastic! You are such a thoughtful boy doing this for charity. A HUGE well done from all of us

Lets make our community "Sunny for Summer"

Mrs Kirkwood has given every child some sunflower seeds today. Please take the time to plant these seeds in your garden or somewhere in the place where you live. We would love to receive updates on the budding plants and where in the village your sunflowers are planted.

Litter pickers

A reminder that we have litter pickers here in school for families to use as part of the Easington Village Wombles initiative. Anyone wishing to take one of the litter pickers home to use around the village, please pop into the office. Thank you.

New Starters

This week we have welcomed five new children into our school.

We are so happy to see more smiling faces joining our Easington C of E family. A HUGE well done to those children for settling in so beautifully and a HUGE thank you to our whole school for being so welcoming and kind. We just know you will love it here 😊

National Online Safety Website

You may remember, a few weeks ago we told you about the National Online Safety website. We will be sharing factsheets from the site with you via our newsletter which we hope will be of interest. If there is anything in particular, you would like more information about, please let us know and we will search for a guide.

School Photographs

School photographs went smoothly yesterday. All of the children looked super smart and I'm sure you can't wait to see the beautiful photographs. Children will bring the order forms home next week. The photographer commented when leaving that the children were a pleasure to work with and behaviour was exemplary.

Parental Consultation Meetings

Thank you to all those parents who met with teachers last week. I hope you found the meetings informative and useful. Unfortunately, teachers have informed me that some appointments were missed. If you would like to speak to your child's class teacher, please contact the school office to arrange a suitable day and time. Thank you, Mr Appleby

What Parents & Carers Need to Know About

WHATSAPP

16+
 in UK & EU;
 12+ rest of world.

WhatsApp is the world's most popular messaging service, with around two billion users exchanging texts, photos, videos and documents, and making voice and video calls. The app offers end-to-end encryption, meaning messages can only be read by the sender and the recipient(s). Not even WhatsApp can read them. Updates to its privacy policy in 2021 reportedly caused millions of users to leave the app. But the new policy was widely misinterpreted: it only related to WhatsApp's business features, not to personal messages.

'Prize' Scams

WhatsApp users occasionally receive messages from unauthorised third parties or fraudsters pretending to offer prizes – encouraging recipients to click a link to win. A common scam involves a warning that someone's WhatsApp subscription has run out: aiming to dupe them into disclosing payment details. Other scams include instructions to forward a message to earn a gift or reward.

Enabling Fake News

WhatsApp has unfortunately been linked to accelerating the spread of dangerous rumours. In India, some outbreaks of mob violence were reported to have been sparked by false allegations shared on the app. WhatsApp itself took steps to prevent its users circulating hazardous theories and speculation in the early weeks of the Covid-19 pandemic.

Connections with Strangers

To start a WhatsApp chat, you need the mobile number of the person you want to message (they also need to have the app). WhatsApp can also access the address book on someone's device and recognise which of their contacts use WhatsApp. If your child has given their mobile number to somebody they don't know, that person could then use it to get in touch via WhatsApp.

Ephemeral Messaging

By enabling the 'disappearing messages' option in a chat, users can send messages that will vanish from WhatsApp after seven days. Parents may want to take note of this new feature, which makes monitoring what children are talking about on the app problematic. Equally, if someone sends your child an inappropriate message, once it has disappeared there is no way to prove any wrongdoing.

'Only Admins' and Cyberbullying

Group chats and video calls are great for connecting with multiple people in WhatsApp, but there is always the potential for someone's feelings to be hurt by an unkind comment or joke. The 'only admins' feature gives the admin(s) of a group control over who can send messages. They can, for example, block people from posting in a chat, which could make a child feel excluded and upset.

Live Location Sharing

The 'live location' feature lets users share their current whereabouts, allowing friends to see their movements. WhatsApp describes it as a "simple and secure way to let people know where you are." Indeed, it is a useful method for a child to let loved ones know they are safe. But if your child is in a chat with people they don't know, it means they will be exposing their location to them, too.

Advice for Parents & Carers

Report Potential Scams

Advise your child not to engage with any message that looks suspicious or too good to be true. When your child receives a message from an unknown number for the first time, they will be given the option to report that number as spam. They can also report a contact or a group as spam by tapping on the contact or group name to open their profile and scrolling down to 'report spam'.

Create a Safe Profile

Even though someone would need your child's phone number to add them as a contact, as an extra precaution it's worth altering your young one's profile settings to restrict who can see their photo and status. The options are 'everyone', 'my contacts' and 'nobody.' Choosing one of the latter two ensures their profile is protected.

Use Location Features Sparingly

If your child needs to use 'live location' to show you or their friends where they are, advise them to share their location only for as long as they need to. WhatsApp gives 'live location' options of 15 minutes, one hour or eight hours. However, your child can manually choose to stop sharing their position at any time.

Fact-Check Messages

You can now fact-check messages that have been forwarded at least five times in WhatsApp, by double-tapping the magnifying glass icon to the right of the message. From there, your child can launch a Google search and decide for themselves whether the message was accurate or not. It's a good way to encourage young people to question things they see online.

Explain about Blocking

If your child receives spam or offensive messages, calls or files from a contact, they should block them. Communication from a blocked contact won't show up on their device and stays undelivered. Blocking someone does not remove them from your child's contact list – they would also need to be deleted from the device's address book. The option to block someone is on their contact info screen.

Leave a Group

If your child is part of a group chat that makes them feel uncomfortable, or has been added to a group that they no longer want to be part of, show them how to use the group's settings to leave. If someone exits a group, the admin can add them back in once; if they leave a second time, it is permanent.

Delete Accidental Messages

If your child has posted a message in the wrong chat or sent a message that they immediately regret, they can delete it. Tap and hold on the message, choose 'delete' and then 'delete for everyone.' WhatsApp allows seven minutes to delete a message after it's sent – but it's important to remember that recipients may have seen (and taken a screenshot of) a message before it was deleted.
