Responding to the Text

1. Find an example from the book that tells you how lots of people chose their husbands or wives in Regency England.

2. On page 25, does Isabella really think the two men looking at her are 'odious'? What does she do that tells you this?

3. Catherine says history 'tells me nothing that interests me. The quarrels of kings, with wars and troubles ... and hardly any women or girls!' Do you agree with her? Explain your answer.
